The West Michigan World Trade Association is a non-profit organization dedicated to maintaining West Michigan's competitive edge in the global marketplace. As part of this commitment, the organization wishes to encourage students to expand their academic knowledge by offering a scholarship of at least $1,000 to a student attending a qualified study abroad program. This scholarship will be awarded to students from West Michigan post-secondary academic institutions.

A study-abroad program is considered a qualified program if the institution deems it academically challenged and appropriate for the applicant's course of study. Priority will be given to students who have never been abroad and those who participate in a semester-long program rather than a summer only program. Additionally, since WMWTA is a business/trade organization, preference will be given to students whose study abroad program is business focused. However, other applications will be considered.

Students interested can apply by writing a 300-word essay on "How do you Expect Study Abroad to Change your World View?" Please send a letter of application along with the essay and completed application form to WMWTA at the address listed below. The letter should include a statement of why the applicant is interested in their study abroad program and how that program will further the student's personal and professional development. Arrangements should be made for a letter of recommendation from a faculty member attesting to the academic appropriateness of the foreign program to the student's studies, as well to the suitability of the applicant. Appropriate supporting information regarding the program should also be included.

The application deadline is Friday, January 31, 2020. Notification of recipient selected by the Board of Directors will be made within two weeks of the application deadline, and the award will be presented prior to the World Trade Week. The award recipient will also be asked to report about their study-abroad experience at the WMWTA 2020 award ceremony.

Please send application to: West Michigan World Trade Association
